Graduation Celebration 2025

June 15, 2025 – 5:00 p.m.

CELEBRATION SPEAKER

Lester Ng

Lester Ng is a proud alumnus of UC Irvine and a steadfast supporter of the Charlie Dunlop School of Biological Sciences. In 2016, he received the UCI Distinguished Alumni Award in recognition of his professional achievements and his lasting contributions to the university community.

Lester has built a remarkable career across the fields of biotechnology, finance and innovation. He is an accomplished entrepreneur and has also worked as an intellectual property consultant — bringing strategic insight to complex scientific and business challenges.

His generosity and vision have left an enduring mark on our school. In honor of his parents, Dr. Lionel and Fay Ng, the Dean's Chair in Biological Sciences bears their name — a testament to the values of family, legacy and giving back.

2025 Golden Apple winner

Star Lee, PhD Developmental & Cell Biology

Professor Lee integrates science topics with social issues in her courses, asking her students to reflect on social injustices and inequities. Her education research is focused on implementing and evaluating culturally responsive pedagogy in biology courses, and how to better support her students' success. She is also interested in how faculty and graduate teaching assistants have trained and approach diversity, equity, and inclusion in the science courses.

MESSAGE FROM DEAN LAFERLA

Dear Class of 2025,

I am honored to congratulate all of you on receiving your undergraduate or master's degree on this momentous day. Earning a degree in biology is challenging under the best of circumstances, and your journey has taken place during a time of global uncertainty and rapid change. Your achievement is a testament to your resilience and dedication. On behalf of the faculty and staff of the UC Irvine Charlie Dunlop School of Biological Sciences, I am very proud of you and your accomplishments.

As you know, our school's foundational theme is MIND | BODY | WORLD. Recent global health challenges and the accelerating impact of climate change have illustrated just how deeply connected life is. The world depends on biologists like us to find solutions — not just to today's most pressing problems, but to those we have yet to encounter. Pursuing studies in the biological sciences is demanding, but it has never been more vital.

The late founder of Apple, Steve Jobs, said, "I think the biggest innovations of the 21st century will be at the intersection of biology and technology. A new era is beginning." Today, that "new era" is a reality. And you are now among the fortunate few who possess important comprehension of science and technology. I know you will use this knowledge to do good, rewarding work in your future profession. You are the game-changers for our planet.

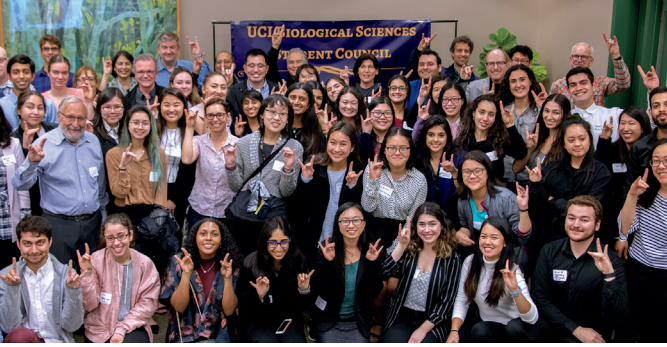

I hope you will always remember your time at UC Irvine with fondness and remain in close contact with the school.

Best wishes,

Frank LaFerla

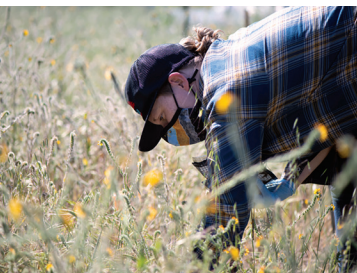

Frank M. LaFerla, PhD

Dr. Lionel and Fay Ng Dean and Distinguished Professor

We are proud of your many accomplishments during your time with us and we congratulate you on reaching today's milestone. The knowledge and skills you have gained at Charlie Dunlop BioSci will serve you well as you go forward to make your mark in the world. We know that you will continue to make us proud!

Associate Dean of Undergraduate Education, 2017-Present
